The Port of Kalama is conducting maintenance on its former administrative office. Our contractor, JH Kelly, LLC, will remove the existing exterior siding, make necessary repairs to the structure and re-side the building. They will also install a peaked roof over the existing flat roof. The project is necessary to prevent moisture from entering the building and extend the building's life. Upon completion, the building's exterior will match the Port's new Administrative Offices and Interpretive Center.

Marina, boat launch, restrooms and Northwest Innovation Works facilities will remain open during construction. Minor traffic revisions may infrequently occur throughout the project.
